

Cortland Capital Market Services Expands to New Indianapolis Office

The global investment servicing firm moves its Indianapolis business group to a new state-of-the-art equipped facility to accommodate growth.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Indianapolis/Chicago, July 11, 2017 - Cortland Capital Market Services LLC, a global investment servicing company, announced its growing Indianapolis office has moved to a new location with greater space and advanced technology.

“Over the last three years, the community of Central Indiana has graciously welcomed Cortland. This support enabled Cortland to quickly integrate and focus on our client’s needs.” said Luke Newcomb, managing director and head of Indianapolis Operations.

“Far ahead of plan, the Indianapolis team went from an idea to a key component of Cortland’s global business expansion,” said Doug Hart, CEO of Cortland. “Opening our new Carmel facility represents a major commitment to our clients who rely on Cortland’s continued investments in quality services, solutions, and advanced technologies.”

New office features include advanced security, a large open floorplate, high-tech conference and meeting rooms, large café, dining, and game area, open collaborative workplaces, mother’s room, stand-up desks, and large multimedia screens.

Cortland’s continued commitment to building a world-class financial operations center in Indianapolis will help support the region with exciting long-term career opportunities in financial accounting, analytics & modeling, administration, operations and software application development. The new office is located at 1289 City Center Drive in Carmel, Indiana. Email, phone and website contact information will remain the same for the new office.
